OAK of JERUSALEM.

NAMES

A.

G. Αμβροσια.

L. Botrys or Ambrosia.

I. Botry.

G. Trauben kraut.

F. Pyment.

S. Ambrosia Yerva.

D. Ambrosia krupt.

PLACE.

This Plant grows in Warmer Climates, with us only in Gardens.

DESCRIPTION.

This Plant which grows about Eighteen Inches high, has a C that is bent at every Leaf, the Leaves are of a middling Green, r to Yellow, having few Veins and those deep. It produces abundan Flowers of a Green, lighter then the Leaf, and Inclining to a Ye White. On the Seed vessel is a small white Style. the Seed is sm and shining. 1 the Plant. 2 the upper part of it Cut of at 3. Th has a Pleasent Scent.

VIRTUES.

This Plant is accounted Warm, and usefull in some Cases to Wo

T. Sheldrake. delin.

TIMOTHY SHELDRAKE Botanicum Medicinale (An Herbal of Medicinial Plants) LONDON, 1759 CHICAGO BOTANIC GARDEN